Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Wednesday 13 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Dry spells between spells of rainfall Thursday and Saturday.

This Evening and Tonight:
A dry evening for many, but some patchy, light rain across northwestern parts at times. A band of rain then moves across the southwest overnight bringing widespread rain and drizzle to the region. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Thursday:
Rain clears through the morning to give a generally dry but cloudy day for many, with sunny spells in the far southwest. However, rain may not clear some northeastern-most areas. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Cloudy and dry Friday, then rain and strong winds arrive westwards early on Saturday which clears into the afternoon. Foggy start Sunday, then a dry day with sunny spells.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.